CONGRESSIONAL INFORMATION SOURCES INVENTORIES AND DIRECTORIES (CISID)

Magnetic Tapes Available

Developed and maintained by the General Accounting Office (GAO) under Title VIII of the Congressional Budget and Impoundment Control Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-344), the CISID data base consists of the following four files on computer tapes:

1. Inventory of Federal Evaluations—(E-File). This file consists of an inventory of approximately 5600 evaluation reports produced by and for most of the departments, agencies, and various commissions of the Federal Government.
2. Inventory of Information Sources/Resources—(I-File). This file contains a directory of some 800 Federal sources and resources of information maintained or issued by Federal agencies.
3. Inventory of Requirements for Reports to the Congress—(R-File). This file describes some 2800 requirements for recurring and one time reports to the Congress from the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the Federal Government.
4. Inventory of Federal Information Systems—(S-File). This file describes approximately 1700 Federal systems maintained by Federal agencies, which contain fiscal, budgeting and program-related information.

The information for these inventories is collected through the use of a series of four especially designed forms filled in and submitted by the various Federal agencies. Entries in the CISID data base provide the user with a full range of information, such as the title, agency maintaining the system or issuing the report, relevant statutory or non-statutory authorities, Congressional relevance, affected programs, OMB ID codes, agency contacts, and descriptive abstracts.

All of the CISID files are available on magnetic tape in the ORACLE master file format. The records are standard IBM variable blocked records written in EBCDIC. The tapes are normally 9-track written at 1600 BPI density. The CISID data base is currently available on-line via the Library of Congress' SCORPIO information retrieval system. GAO is unable to furnish any additional supporting software.

Inquiries regarding the availability of CISID tapes should be addressed to:
