FOREWORD

Title VIII of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-344) assigned the Comptroller General the responsibility to identify congressional information needs as expressed in legislative requirements; to monitor the various reporting requirements of the Congress; to identify congressional needs for fiscal, budgetary, and program-related information; and to maintain a central file or files of fiscal and budgetary information.

As a part of its efforts to fulfill this responsibility, the General Accounting Office (GAO) has established a continuing program to maintain Congressional Information Sources, Inventories, and Directories (CISID)—a data base of current inventories of requirements for recurring reports, evaluation studies, and fiscal, budgetary, and program-related information sources and systems. This data base is maintained on central computer files in such a manner as to render it transferable to other organizations, including the Library of Congress' SCORPIO information retrieval system, thus facilitating the use of the inventories and directories by the committees of both Houses of Congress.

For those who may not have immediate access to SCORPIO, or any other computer based information system providing access to CISID, GAO is publishing the 1980 issue (third edition) of the Congressional Sourcebook Series reflecting the recent updating of the contents of these inventories.

The Congressional Sourcebook Series consists of three separate volumes. Each volume is an indexed directory and guide, addressing the following areas:

- (1) Requirements for Recurring Reports to the Congress—describes the various requirements for recurring reports to the Congress from the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the Federal Government.
- (2) Federal Information Sources and Systems—describes Federal sources and systems maintained by executive agencies, which contain fiscal, budgetary, and program-related information.
- (3) Federal Evaluations—contains an inventory of program and management evaluation reports produced by and for most of the departments, agencies, and various commissions of the Federal Government.

We trust that the Congressional Sourcebook Series volumes, together with the CISID computer tapes, will facilitate identification, acquisition, and utilization of relevant and reliable information which is needed by the Congress in carrying out its oversight and budget control responsibilities.

The Congressional Sourcebook Series will be distributed to each Member of the Congress, the congressional leadership, each congressional committee and subcommittee, the President and Vice President of the United States, the head of each Federal department and agency, the Chief Justice of the United States and other appropriate offices of the Judicial Branch, state officials, and libraries.

I invite your comments and suggestions on how these directories can be made more helpful in future editions.

ELMER B. STAATS
Comptroller General of the United States

INTRODUCTION

This volume of the Congressional Sourcebook Series reflects an updated inventory of requirements for recurring reports to the Congress as of July 31, 1979. It includes statutory and nonstatutory requirements for recurring reports, as well as some voluntary submissions.

The emphasis in the current inventory has been on "requirements" for reports. Often a difference exists between actual requirements for reports and actual submissions. The causes for the difference are many, including requirements for reporting the occurrence of an event that has not yet occurred, new requirements for which no report has been prepared to date, and the possibility that the requirement has lost its significance through the passage of time.

A descriptive abstract of each available report is contained in the citation section. In addition, each citation carries an abstract of the statutory or nonstatutory reporting requirement. (See sample entry on page xiii)

PURPOSE AND SCOPE

In order to monitor the various requirements for recurring reports to the Congress, it is necessary to acquire and maintain a complete inventory of such requirements.

This inventory includes the recurring reporting requirements of the executive, congressional, and judicial agencies, independent agencies, and Federally chartered corporations. The 1978-79 edition of the United States Government Manual was the principal source of Federal agencies/organizations covered in this volume.

METHODOLOGY AND RELIABILITY

The current inventory of requirements for recurring reports was compiled from information furnished by preparing agencies in response to a GAO request of August 3, 1976. Each agency was provided with a preliminary computerized listing of requirements for recurring reports which had been determined through various research approaches. For example, the Department of Justice's computerized retrieval information system (JURIS) was utilized to conduct a search of the United States Code to identify statutory reporting requirements. Also researched to identify other reporting requirements were available slip-laws and House Document 96-14*. Each agency was then asked to review the resultant computerized listing of recurring reports in order to confirm or refute the listed requirements. This directory contains all responses made in this review. Judging from the responses from the Federal agencies, and other studies, it is believed that this inventory represents substantially all of the statutory requirements as of July 31, 1979. Continuing efforts will be made to achieve completeness in this regard in future editions.

*U.S. Congress. House. Clerk of the House. Reports to be Made to Congress. Jan. 15, 1979, 86p. House Document 96-14. (Communication from the Clerk, U.S. House of Representatives, transmitting a list of reports which it is the duty of any officer or department to make Congress pursuant to Rule III, Clause 2, Rules of the House of Representatives.)

Although preparing agencies were asked to identify the relevant congressional committees to which reports must be made, in many cases it was indicated only that the report was sent to the Congress, the President of the Senate, or the Speaker of the House. Relying on earlier studies and on records of the Clerk of the House and the Secretary of the Senate, GAO attempted to identify probable recipient committees. For this reason, every appropriate relevant committee may not have been listed for each requirement.

In attempting to relate reports to budget classification, at least one Office of Management and Budget Function/Subfunction code was assigned each reporting requirement. This assignment was based upon the judgment of GAO staff and the brief description provided by the preparing agencies.

AVAILABILITY OF REPORTS INCLUDED IN THIS DIRECTORY

The General Accounting Office does not stock copies of recurring reports prepared by other agencies. Users desiring copies of reports shown in this directory should contact the office shown as the Agency Contact, such as GPO, NTIS or the preparer of the report in the individual citations.

AVAILABILITY OF COPIES OF THIS DIRECTORY

Both microfiche and paper copies of this directory are available to Members of Congress, congressional committee staff members, officials of Federal, State, and local governments, non-profit organizations, and college libraries, faculty members, and students by writing to:

USER'S GUIDE

Requirements for Recurring Reports to the Congress attempts to provide the reader with a full range of information relating to congressionally required reports, including the agency which issues the report, the Public Law to which it relates, and the congressional recipients. The directory is designed for general browsing or for in-depth research. It has two sections: a Citation Section and an Index Section.

Citation Section

The Citation Section consists of a descriptive abstract of the report as well as an abstract of the requirement for the report. Some or all of the following information is contained in each citation as appropriate. The information elements numbered in the sample are explained as follows:

1. Accession Number: A 9-character number which uniquely identifies each citation entry in numerical sequence.
2. Title/Subtitle: The title of a report as derived from the title page or the cover of the source document. Titles are enclosed in brackets when the report is not available or when the title was created from the language of the requirement for the report.
3. Agency Control Number: When applicable, the data inventory number assigned to the requirement by the submitting agency for internal reference, control, or cataloging purposes.

4. Frequency/Due Dates: The rate at which the report recurs; and the date that the report should be issued to the recipient.
5. OMB Funding Title/Code: Relates the specific reporting requirement to the appropriate OMB account title(s) and the associated 11-digit identification code(s).
6. Congressional Recipients: Indicates the Congressional committees to which the report is officially distributed.
7. Law/Authority: Indicates the appropriate statutory or nonstatutory authority for issuance of the report, including Public Law number and name where appropriate.
8. Availability: Denotes the source(s) from which a report is available. The source(s) may be the issuing agency itself, an agency documentation center, or a distributor.
9. Geographic Relevance: Indicates the levels of geographic reference utilized when aggregating data contained in the report, i.e., National, State, County, Congressional District, etc.
10. Synopsis of Requirements: A summary of requirements as contained in the appropriate statutory or non-statutory authority governing submittal of the report.
11. Abstract: Provides a summary of the content of the report.
12. Agency Contact: The responsible office and telephone number at the issuing/preparing agency.

Index Section

The Index Section is comprised of five separate indexes, enabling the reader to search for information via any one or combination of the following points:

- Subject Index
Allows the user to search alphabetically under key words or phrases relating to his subject interest.
- Agency Index
Includes both Federal agencies and federally chartered corporate bodies.
- Congressional Index
Includes entries under relevant congressional committees.
- Law Index
Includes entries under Public Law names and numbers, U.S. Statutes-at-Large references, U.S. Code references, and other statutory as well as nonstatutory authorities, e.g., Executive orders, etc.
- Budget Function Index
Function/Subfunction categories by which Federal programs and activities are identified in the Federal budget document.

Reference from index entries to the corresponding citations is provided by a unique 9-character accession number assigned to each citation.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

R00300-003

Annual Report of the Secretary of Commerce.

Frequency/Due Date: Annually / End of FY.

OMB Funding Title/Code: 13-0120-0-1-376

Congressional Recipient: House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce; Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

Authority: (P.L. 57-87, § 8; 32 Stat. 829; 15 U.S.C. 1519).

Requirement: The Secretary of Commerce shall submit an annual report to the Congress describing the work done by the Department in fostering, promoting, and developing foreign and domestic commerce; the mining, manufacturing, shipping, and fishery industries; and the transportation facilities of the United States. Recommendations relating to the improvement of the effectiveness of the performance of the duties and purposes of the Department shall be included. Abstract: This report presents all Department of Commerce activities for the past fiscal year. Summaries are given covering the activities of the various agencies of the Departments and Offices, with statistical information included where applicable. The appendix is a summary of General Accounting Office reports issued to Congress, and action taken on significant recommendations.

R00300-015

The Effects of Pollution Abatement on International Trade.

Frequency/Due Date: Annually / Unspecified.

OMB Funding Title/Code: 13-1250-0-1-376

Congressional Recipient: House Committee on Public Works and Transportation; Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works.

Authority: Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972 (P.L. 92-500, § 6(b); 86 Stat. 898; 33 U.S.C. 1251 NT).

Requirement: The Secretary of Commerce shall make reports at least annually to the President and to the Congress setting forth the results of investigations of the potential economic impact of evolving pollution-control programs in the United States and abroad, with special emphasis on the effects on comparable prices of domestic and imported goods. Abstract: The report discusses the extent to which pollution abatement and control programs will be imposed on or voluntarily undertaken by U.S. manufacturers in the near future, and the probable short- and long-range effects of the costs of such programs (computed to the greatest extent practical on an industry-by-industry basis) on the production costs of the manufacturers and the market prices of the goods purchased by them. Also contained in the report is the probable extent to which pollution abatement and control programs will be implemented in foreign industrial nations in the near future. The extent to which the production costs (again, on an industry-by-industry basis, wherever practical) of foreign manufacturers will be affected by the costs of such programs is discussed. The report includes an analysis of the probable competitive advantage that any article manufactured in a foreign nation will likely have in relation to a comparable article made in the United States if that foreign nation does not require its manufacturers to implement pollution abatement and control programs, requires a lesser degree of pollution abatement and control programs, or in any way reimburses or otherwise subsidizes its manufacturers for the cost of such programs.

Report on Variable Incentive Pay for Medical Officers. (H&E(A)1353).

Frequency/Due Date: Annually / April 30.

OMB Funding Title/Code: 97-0100-0-1-051

Congressional Recipient: House Committee on Armed Services; Senate Committee on Armed Services.

Authority: (P.L. 93-274, § 1; 88 Stat. 96; 37 U.S.C. 313).

Requirement: The Secretary of Defense shall submit an annual report to the House and Senate Committees on Armed Services regarding the operation of the special pay program for medical officers who execute active duty agreements. The report shall be on a fiscal year basis and shall include a review of the program for the preceding year and the plan for the program for the succeeding year.

Abstract: This report describes the status of the Variable Incentive Pay (VIP) program for medical officers. An increase in Variable Incentive Pay is authorized in order to maintain the quality and quantity of physicians necessary for an all-volunteer armed force. It is a larger amount than that authorized under the continuation pay program, and applies to a larger group of eligible officers. To achieve the detail necessary for effective evaluation of the program, a VIP data system has been created, consisting of quarterly magnetic data tapes covering each medical officer's status with respect to VIP.

Requirement: The Secretary of Defense shall submit an annual report to the Congress recommending the annual active duty end strength level for each component of the armed services for the next fiscal year and the annual civilian personnel end strength level for each component of the Department of Defense for the next fiscal year. The report shall include justification for the recommendations, an explanation of the relationship between the personnel strength levels recommended and national security policies, and specific detailed personnel information. Abstract: This report details military and civilian defense manpower requirements for the fiscal year. The language used throughout to describe and explain requirements is the Defense Planning and Programming Categories (DPPC): Strategic Forces, General Purpose Forces, Auxiliary Forces, Mission Support Forces, Central Support Forces, and Individuals. The report provides a summary of Defense manpower requirements, and highlights the Defense Policy upon which the requirements are based. It details manpower requirements for each functional category across all military services and describes the manpower programs of each service and their accomplishments in achieving improved manpower utilization. It provides a preview of manpower matters to be presented before the Armed Services Committees. The various appendices present special analyses on subjects such as Cost of Manpower, Women in the Military, Forward Deployments, and technical information on the data structure. A Unit Annex is included which describes the planned allocation of manpower to specific units within the report. It is transmitted separately for security reasons, and is therefore not included with this report.

OMB Funding Title/Code: 97-0300-0-1-051

Congressional Recipient: House Committee on the Judiciary; House Committee on Small Business; Senate Committee on Armed Services.

Authority: Voluntary.

Abstract: This pamphlet contains a distribution of military prime contract awards over $10,000 each by Service Category and Federal Supply Classification. Section A covers amounts of awards for research, development, test, and evaluation work (RDT & E). The categories used are based on Department of Defense Claimant Programs, and are divided into four kinds of RDT & E work. Section B tabulates Other Services and Construction, using 15 major subdivisions and approximately 160 individual classes specifically developed for this purpose. Section C covers the Federal Supply Classification Structure, developed for supply management of items in the system. Summaries of data for sections B and C are provided. Data cover only those contracts placed directly by the Department of Defense and do not reflect the large amounts of subcontracts for basic and intermediate materials and components. For security reasons, various contracts have been reported with a classification other than the one describing the item purchased, leaving data for some Federal Supply Classes incomplete. The report covers procurement from all sources, including education and non-profit institutions, Federal agencies, foreign contractors, and U.S. business concerns.

Nuclear Career Annual Incentive Bonus Effectiveness Report. (SECNAV 7220-1).
Frequency/Due Date: Annually / Unspecified.
OMB Funding Title/Code: 17-1453-0-1-051
Congressional Recipient: House Committee on Armed Services; Senate Committee on Armed Services.
Authority: Nuclear Career Incentive Act of 1975 (P.L. 94-356, § 3; 90 Stat. 901; 37 U.S.C. 312(c)).

Requirement: The Secretary of the Navy shall make an annual report to the House and Senate Committees on Armed Services containing data needed to monitor the effectiveness of the nuclear career annual incentive bonuses. Abstract: This report summarizes the status of the Nuclear Officer community strength, and the success and continued need of the Nuclear Officer Continuation Pay. The purpose of the Continuation Pay is to arrest the high resignation rate of Nuclear Officers, and to ensure adequate manning of the nuclear submarine fleet. In addition, it improves the retention of these officers to the point where equitable sea-shore rotation can be made available. At the end of the four-year period during which the bonus is paid, an increasing resignation rate is occurring. These officers experience an effective pay cut due to the termination of the pay, often accompanied by loss of submarine pay when transferred ashore. Private industry is able to recruit these officers, thus precluding achievement of improved sea-shore rotation. Expiration of current bonus legislation without counterbalancing incentive will result in a substantial voluntary loss of skilled and experienced young officers.

Authority: Aviation Career Incentive Act of 1974 (P.L. 93-294, § 301a(e); 88 Stat. 179; 37 U.S.C. 301a(e)).

Requirement: The Secretary of Defense shall submit an annual report to the Congress showing the number of rated members by pay grade who have 12 or 18 years of aviation service and, of those numbers, the number entitled to continuous monthly incentive pay, those who are performing operational flying duties or proficiency flying, and those not performing flying duties. Abstract: This report on military personnel entitled to incentive pay for aviation skills presents data on the flying activity of officers qualified for continuous aviation career incentive pay, flying activity of rated or designated officers qualified for aviation service, but not qualified for continuous aviation career incentive pay; the distribution of operational flying duty credit for persons with 12 years of aviation service completed during fiscal year 1976; and the distribution of operational flying duty credit for persons with 18 years of aviation service completed during fiscal year 1976. Separate reports are included for the Army, the Navy, the United States Marine Corps, and the Air Force. Where appropriate, data are presented separately for such ratings as pilots, navigators, or flight surgeons. Separate reports are prepared for each Reserve component. These data include all officers, qualified for aviation services, who are in an aviation career. Officers in flying training are included in the data on the flying activity of officers qualified for continuous aviation career incentive pay for the rating designation for which they are being trained.

Authority: Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969 (P.L. 91-173, § 426; 83 Stat. 798; 30 U.S.C. 936(b)).

Requirement: The Secretary of Labor shall submit a report to the Congress within 120 days following the convening of each session of the Congress with regard to claims filed for black lung benefits. Abstract: This report reflects the experiences associated with the transfer of liability to the coal industry for the payment of benefits. It provides a synopsis of the significant program problems and issues encountered, and the efforts to deal with them. Also included are data on the number of claims filed and processed, actual and projected program costs, and regulations promulgated for this program. Statistics are included related to claims and associated dollar benefits. A major source of litigation has been the testing of the constitutionality of the Act by coal mine operators. In almost every case, either the constitutionality of one or more provisions or the exercise of regulatory authority in implementing the Act is questioned.

Availability: GPO

Geographic Relevance: National

Requirement: The Secretary of Labor shall undertake an appropriate study of institutional and other arrangements giving rise to involuntary retirement and report his findings and any appropriate legislative recommendations to the President and the Congress. The report shall be transmitted as an interim report not later than January 1, 1981, and in final form not later than January 1, 1982. Abstract: In extending the age group of employees who are protected under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Congress mandated that the Secretary of Labor conduct a study to: examine the labor force effects of raising the upper age limitation to age 70; determine the feasibility of raising or eliminating the age limit; and examine the effect of the exemptions from the age 70 mandatory retirement age limit for certain executive employees and tenured teaching personnel. The specific studies being supported by the Department of Labor will examine involuntary retirement and the effect of raising the mandatory retirement age limit. The overall objectives of these studies are to investigate the institutional factors which give rise to mandatory retirement and the responses of employers and employees to changes in the minimum mandatory retirement age. Information on these issues will be used to evaluate the effects of current and proposed government policies concerning employment and retirement of older workers.

The Battle Act Report: Mutual Defense Assistance Control Act of 1951.
Frequency/Due Date: Quarterly / Unspecified.
OMB Funding Title/Code: 19-0113-0-1-153
Congressional Recipient: House Committee on Foreign Affairs; Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.
Authority: Mutual Defense Assistance Control Act of 1951 (P.L. 82-213, § 103; 65 Stat. 646; 22 U.S.C. 1611b(b)).

Requirement: The Secretary of State shall immediately report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations and on Armed Services, to the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, and to the House Committee on Foreign Affairs any determination to continue military, economic, and/or financial assistance to a nation which knowingly permits shipments of specified types of materials to any nation or combination of nations threatening the security of the United States. The Secretary of State shall review at least quarterly all determinations made previously and shall report the conclusions of such reviews, together with an analysis of the trade with the Soviet bloc of countries for which such determinations have been made, to the previously named committees of the House and Senate. Abstract: This narrative and statistical report contains information on the regulation of export of war-oriented materials, such as arms, ammunition, implements of war, atomic energy materials, petroleum, transportation materials of strategic value, and those items of primary strategic significance used in the production of arms, ammunition, and implements of war. Determination takes into consideration the contribution of each country to the mutual security of the free world; the importance of such assistance to the security of the United States; the strategic importance of imports received from countries of the Soviet bloc, and the adequacy of each country's controls over the export to the Soviet bloc of items of strategic importance. Continuation of assistance to a country may occur although such country permits shipments of items other than arms, ammunition, implements of war, and atomic energy materials when such cessation of aid would clearly be detrimental to the security of the United States.

OMB Funding Title/Code: 89-0203-0-1-276

Congressional Recipient: House Committee on Science and Technology; Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources; Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

Authority: Requested by the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

Abstract: This table is one section of a 3-part report on reprogramming actions for the Department of Energy. The base table provides a breakdown by programs and categories of the congressionally approved budget for the fiscal year, and is the basis for relating further changes. It includes program costs, cost of work, revenues, and changes in selected resources.

Reprogramming Actions Operating Expenses - Proposed Actions. (CR-13).

Frequency/Due Date: As required / Unspecified.

OMB Funding Title/Code: 89-0203-0-1-276

Congressional Recipient: House Committee on Science and Technology; Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources; Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

Authority: Requested by the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

Abstract: This memorandum provides information on a proposed reprogramming action that will provide for increases in costs of electrical power for the gaseous diffusion plants or cascade power. The increased cost of cascade power has resulted principally from higher than anticipated coal costs for the electric power suppliers--Tennessee Valley Authority, Electric Energy Inc., and Ohio Valley Electric Corp.--which in turn are passed on to their customers. The report states what the issue is, the background, the alternative, and a recommendation.

Requirement: Not later than 3 months after August 7, 1977, the Task Force on Environmental Cancer and Heart and Lung Disease shall be established and shall include representatives of the Environmental Protection Agency; the National Cancer Institute; the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute; the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health; and the National Institute on Environmental Health Sciences. The task force shall recommend a comprehensive research program to determine and quantify the relationship between environmental pollution and cancer and heart and lung disease; recommend comprehensive strategies to reduce or eliminate the risks of cancer or other diseases associated with environmental pollution; recommend research and other measures to prevent or reduce the incidence of environmentally related cancer and heart and lung disease, coordinate research by and stimulate cooperation between agencies; and report to the Congress, not later than 1 year after August 7, 1977, and annually thereafter, on the progress of the task force. Abstract: This report describes the work of the task force in its second year and outlines plans for the future. During its first year, the task force defined the problem of environmentally related cancer and heart and lung diseases and developed objectives and an organizational capability to address the problem. It also identified Federal resources available and began the exchange of information among its members. During the second year, project groups were formed to deal with three areas: Standardization of Measurements and Tests; Education of Public and Health Professionals; and Exposure and Metabolic Mechanisms. Each group will identify and recommend special actions appropriate for meeting the objectives of reduction of environmental disease. The task force views information exchange as the primary basis for establishing coordination and development of interagency programs. Activities this year included creation of a directory of interagency groups working in environmental health, publishing a monthly calendar of events, listing data bases for Federal research programs. The task force will continue its information exchange activities and will strengthen ties with such groups as the Interagency Regulatory Liaison Group and the National Toxicology Program.

Requirement: The Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) shall provide followup reports annually on actions taken by the EPA and other Federal agencies to regulate sources of halocarbon emissions, the results of such regulations in protecting the ozone layer, and the need for additional regulatory action, if any. Abstract: This report reviews the progress made by EPA in regulating ozone depleting substances. In March 1978, EPA and FDA issued final rules prohibiting the manufacturing and processing of chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) for nonessential aerosol propellant uses. EPA continues its investigation of nonaerosol and miscellaneous CFC uses, including use as refrigerants, foam blowing agents, cleaning agents in the electronic and metal industries, and as solvents. The EPA study includes several regulatory strategies to reduce CFC emissions, namely: direct traditional regulation, economic incentives, and a conservation program. In implementing the Clean Air Act and deciding to what extent further regulation is necessary, EPA is continuing its studies of current development in ozone theory, the extent of adverse health and environmental consequences of ozone depletion, the technological capability to reduce emissions from major sources, and the cost of achieving control.

Requirement: The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission shall submit to the President and to the Congress, at the end of each fiscal year, a report concerning the actions it has taken and the moneys it has disbursed. The report shall include such further reports on the cause of, and means of eliminating discrimination and such recommendations for further legislation as may appear desirable. Abstract: A summary of the work of the Commission to bring relief to persons suffering from employment discrimination is contained in this report which also includes the methods employed to eliminate systemic discriminatory features of employment systems. Among these are voluntary compliance, conciliation agreements, court orders or decrees (the result of litigation), as well as actions by State and local government fair employment agencies. To measure the impact of these actions, the Commission implemented a Management Accountability Plan (MAP). The primary goal of the system was to assure that the desired results are specifically defined in advance and that performance can be correctly measured in terms of expected achievement. The MAP relates the activities and objectives of each program--compliance, litigation, voluntary or State and local action--to the overall Commission goals. Agency Contact: (202) 634-6930.

Availability: Preparer of Report

Geographic Relevance: National; Federal Home Loan Bank Districts

Requirement: May 8, 1979 letter request from Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal. Abstract: This report includes a narrative supplemented by appropriate statistical material on FHLBB consumer complaint program, including: structure of the program; administrative changes during the year; the nature of complaints received during the year, by type; the resolution of complaints so as to indicate the extent to which the program has provided useful assistance to consumers; the extent and nature of concentration in complaints at certain institutions that have indicated the possibility of a general regulatory problem; and the cost of the program. The report has a format that makes it suitable for release as a public information document. In reporting on the resolution of complaints, two points are considered: the information provided on resolutions of complaints reports the resolution of complaints during the calendar year covered by the report, not resolutions achieved during that calendar year; and the statistical report of complaint resolutions is broken down by classes of complaints such as discrimination in lending, other lending complaints, electronic funds transfer complaints, other deposit complaints, and all other complaints.

Authority: Labor Management Relations Act of 1947 (P.L. 80-101, § 201(c); 61 Stat. 153; 29 U.S.C. 172).

Requirement: The Director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service shall make a report to the Congress at the end of each fiscal year. Abstract: This report summarizes the activities of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service (FMCS). The objectives of FMCS are to prevent or minimize work stoppages in industries affecting interstate commerce caused by disputes between labor and management. To this end the FMCS provides professional advice, guidance and counseling and promotes and encourages harmonious relationships between parties involved in labor-management collective bargaining disputes. Actual services include: (a) Providing mediation assistance to employees and labor organizations having collective bargaining disputes; (b) providing assistance to companies and unions in the prevention of disputes by seeking to improve their day to day relationships and creating a better degree of understanding and cooperation; and (c) providing assistance to companies and labor organizations in the selection of impartial arbitrators to hear and decide disputes over collective bargaining agreements. The Service is involved in special notice and mediation procedures designed to minimize work stoppages in contract disputes at all private health care institutions throughout the Nation. The Director of the Service, after due notice, may establish an impartial Board of Inquiry to look into the facts of the dispute. Except as a last resort the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service refrains from participation in intrastate matters or in controversies pertaining to interpretation or application of existing contracts. FMCS has no jurisdiction in railroad and airlines industries. The Service assists in dispute resolution involving employees of State and local governments where mediation services are unavailable and where one or both sides request FMCS assistance.

Part II provides narrative highlights of the training activities behind the statistics, and illustrates activities in support of Government mandates and important public issues. Part III presents the responsibilities of the OPM in the area of training and activities undertaken. These include regulations and guidance; consultation, assistance, coordination and information services; and direct course delivery and assistance. Part IV consists of summary tables of statistical information received from Federal agencies upon which much of the analysis of the report is based, and a list of training resource publications.

Congressional Recipient: House Committee on International Relations; Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

Authority: Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Year 1976 (P.L. 94-141, § 401; 89 Stat. 763; 22 U.S.C. 966(e)).

Availability: Preparer of report

Geographic Relevance: National

Requirement: The Secretary of State shall transmit a report to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and to the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations by May 29 of each year describing the steps he has taken to carry out provisions for the assignment of Foreign Service officers to public or private nonprofit organizations and to Members and offices of the Congress under the Pearson Amendment Program. Abstract: The Pearson Amendment Program provides for a substantial number of Foreign Service Officers to be assigned in the United States or any of its territories or possessions for significant duty with a State or local government, public school, community college, other public organization, or the office of a member of the Congress. These assignments are intended to involve the officers in issues and activities which will increase their substantive understanding of current trends in and problems of American society. The report includes identification of the organization to which each such officer was assigned during the past fiscal year, identification of the officers so assigned, identification of the position within the organization filled by the officer, and a short description of the duties and responsibilities involved in each assignment. Projected new assignments or extensions for the coming fiscal year are identified by organization only.

Authority: (P.L. 87-256, § 108(b); 75 Stat. 534; 22 U.S.C. 2458(B)).

Requirement: The President shall submit annual reports to the Congress of activities carried out and expenditures made in furtherance of the purposes of the Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act of 1961, as amended. Each report shall include the texts of agreements made with other countries during the period covered by the report and a full description of the program and the funds expended with respect to each country in which activities have been carried on pursuant to the act. Abstract: This report includes background information on the scope and relevance of the United States' International Educational and Cultural Exchange Program and on progress which has been made during the past year in relations with both individual countries and with geographic areas of the world. Particular program areas, such as participation on drug abuse prevention and control, and in environmental and urban projects, are discussed. Recent thrusts of the program are identified and the support of other nations for such exchange programs is discussed. A summary of exchange opportunities, both in the academic program and in other programs, is presented, and major cooperating agencies, boards, advisory groups, and commissions are identified. Data are provided on the number of exchanges with each country over a period of several years, identified by the type of exchange as well as by total exchanges; the total number of grantees during the past fiscal year; the distribution of grantees in the United States; the fields of specialization by category of grantee; the sources of funds programmed; the total funds obligated; the countries with cost-sharing agreements; and the expenditures, by country, under the Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act.

Geographic Relevance: International

Requirement: The Director of the International Communication Agency make an annual report to the Congress with respect to his activities relative to the Center for Cultural and Technical Interchange between East and West Act of 1960. The East-West Center was established to promote better relations and understanding between the United States and the nations of Asia and the Pacific through cooperative study, training, and research. Abstract: This annual report on the East-West Center includes overviews by the Center's president and each of the vice-presidents; reports on each of the problem-area institutes; and reports on open grants, the office of administration, and the office of publications and public affairs. Individual reports on the East-West Communication Institute, the East-West Culture Learning Institute, the East-West Food Institute, the East-West Population Institute, and the East-West Technology and Development Institute are included. These individual reports each include an overview of the purpose and program of the institute; identification of the visiting researchers and fellows by name, organization, and area of research; professional development activities conducted by the institute; identification of degree students by name, country, degree sought, and major field; identification of degree students in field education programs; publications by staff and fellows of the institute; information on resource materials collection; and identification of staff. The open grants division provides flexibility for the Center to invite professionals, scholars, and students whose interest lie outside the scope of the problem-oriented institutes. Data are provided on the visiting researchers and fellows, degree students, field education, publications, seminars and discussion, and staff of the open grants program. The report of the Office of Administration includes data on appropriations, a balance sheet, a statement of current fund revenues and expenditures and changes in fund balance, personnel hires and terminations, and staff. The report of the Office of Publications and Public Affairs includes listings of the books produced by the Center, informational publications, program publications production by institute, and staff.

OMB Funding Title/Code: 18-1001-0-1-372

Congressional Recipient: Senate Special Committee on Aging.

Authority: Requested by the Senate Special Committee on Aging.

Abstract: This report provides information on mail fraud activities, especially in relation to elderly customers. The Mail Fraud Statute provides a fine of $1,000, or five years imprisonment, or both, for any use of the mails in furtherance of a scheme to obtain money, or property, on the basis of fraudulent representations. Two administrative-civil actions are utilized by the Inspection Service to combat mail frauds. The Postmaster General may return to sender any mail destined for concerns whose advertisements contain misrepresentations. A companion statute provides for the withholding of such mail from the recipient by court order. A new protection program has been implemented to assist in unsatisfactory mail order transactions, which provides for direct contact with the mail order houses to relieve the complaint. Mail fraud schemes particularly enticing to the elderly are: business opportunities, chain referral schemes, home improvement, land sale swindles, matrimonial schemes, medical frauds, solicitation of funds, and work-at-home schemes. Summaries of format, and Inspection Service statistics are provided for each.

OMB Funding Title/Code: 36-0151-0-1-705

Congressional Recipient: Senate Committee on Appropriations.

Authority: Requested by the HUD-Independent Agencies Subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Abstract: This report summarizes the initial efforts of the Veterans Administration to provide aid for incarcerated veterans. During the month since the program began, regional officers in all 50 States have made initial contact with all Federal and State prisons in their regions of responsibility. Response has been enthusiastic by most prison officials, with minimum cooperation by a few, and one outright refusal. VA policy requires a minimum standard of two visits per year to all Federal and State prisons; some stations, however, are visited on a quarterly or monthly basis.

NATIONAL CENTER FOR PRODUCTIVITY AND QUALITY OF WORKING LIFE

R07100-001

National Commission on Productivity and Work Quality Report.

Frequency/Due Date: Annually / Unspecified.

OMB Funding Title/Code: 95-0700-0-1-376

Congressional Recipient: House Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs; Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs.

Authority: Voluntary.

Abstract: Part I of this report provides a review of national productivity and its effect on the economy. The recent changes in, and long term challenges of productivity are discussed in depth. An analysis of the background for possible policies to increase productivity is made for the private sector and the Government. Part II summarizes the activities and progress of the Commission whose efforts are concentrated on 1) the morale and quality of work of the American worker, 2) the international competitive position of the United States, 3) the efficiency of government, and 4) the cost of those goods and services which fulfill the most basic needs of Americans. The benefits of labor-management committees, and of four work quality programs, are being studied. The Commission worked extensively to increase productivity and quality in the private sector with the food, transportation, construction, and health care industries, and on productivity in Federal, State, and local governments. A comprehensive program was initiated to publicize the Commission's goals and efforts.

Frequency/Due Date: Annually / January 28.

OMB Funding Title/Code: 44-0103-0-1-506; 44-0100-0-1-151

Congressional Recipient: House Committee on Appropriations.

Authority: Letter of December 28, 1976, from the House Committee on Appropriations according to House Report 94-1745, October 1, 1976.

Abstract: This report presents data on the total dollars and work years allocated for ACTION automatic data processing systems for past, current, and budget years. Data are included on capital investments; personnel; equipment rental, space, and other operating costs; commercial services; interagency services; intra-agency services; other services; and the number of automatic data processing systems and central processing units. In addition, a narrative report on the obligations and inventory of the automatic data processing systems is included. This narrative report describes reviews of the system which have been made and objectives for the management of these operations during the next two fiscal years. An explanation of all planned expenditures on automatic data processing services is included. Current plans call for a reconfiguration of the existing systems rather than the replacement of these systems with a comprehensive data processing system, as previously planned.

Availability: Preparer of report

Geographic Relevance: National

Requirement: The Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct reviews and audits of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission and make reports thereon. The Comptroller General and his duly authorized representatives shall, for the purpose of securing information pertinent to such reviews and audits, have access to and the right to examine books, documents, papers, or records of the Commission, but the Comptroller General reports shall not include data and information that would disclose business transactions of any person and trade secrets or names of customers. However, such data shall be provided upon request of congressional committees acting within scope of their jurisdiction. Abstract: The report issued May 17, 1978, represents the first GAO review of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC). The report, which was requested by the Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry was part of a comprehensive congressional sunset review of CFTC which led in late 1978 to passage of the Futures Trading Act of 1978 and reauthorization of the CFTC for 4 years. While acknowledging the accomplishments of the CFTC, the report showed that much remains to be done to fully implement the mandate and congressional intent of the 1974 act which created the agency. The report pointed out that, to enhance Federal regulation of the futures markets and to promote effective industry self-regulation, CFTC needs to correct weaknesses in such program areas as contract market designations, rule enforcement review, abusive trading practices, registration, customer claims, and market surveillance.

Geographic Relevance: National

Requirement: The Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct annually a performance audit of the activities and transactions of the National Railroad Transportation Corporation in accordance with generally accepted management principles, under rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Comptroller General, at such place or places he may deem appropriate. The representative of the Comptroller General shall have access to all books, accounts, records, reports, files, and other items belonging to or in use by the Corporation pertaining to its financial and other transactions and necessary to facilitate the audit and shall be afforded full facilities for verifying transactions with the balances or securities held by depositories, fiscal agents, and custodians. Abstract: Amtrak's long-range goals include expansion of high-speed corridor service. GAO concluded that the benefits Amtrak anticipates may not be available or worth the cost, and substantial increases in ridership cannot be expected unless one of the other transportation modes is disrupted. The report lists a number of choices the Congress can make regarding Federal subsidy for Amtrak's corridor development plans.
