Congressional Committees

Enclosed is our report on the statements of expenditures of six offices of independent counsel and one office of special counsel for the 6 months ended September 30, 2000. We are sending copies of this report to the Attorney General, the Director of the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts, the independent counsels and special counsel included in our audit, and other interested parties. Copies will be made available to others upon request.

This report was prepared under the direction of Jeanette M. Franzel, Acting Director, Financial Management and Assurance, who can be reached at (202) 512-9406. If I can be of further assistance, please call me at (202) 512-2600.

Congressional Committees

This report presents the results of our audits of expenditures¹ reported by six offices of independent counsel and one office of special counsel for the 6 months ended September 30, 2000. The Department of Justice and the independent counsels are required under 28 U.S.C. 594(d)(2), (h), and 596(c)(1) (1994) to report on expenditures from a permanent, indefinite appropriation established within the Department of Justice to fund independent counsel activities. We are required under 28 U.S.C. 596(c)(2), to audit the statements of expenditures prepared by the independent counsels. We also audited the statement of expenditures of Special Counsel John C. Danforth, who is authorized by the Department of Justice to fund his operations from the permanent, indefinite appropriation.

In our audits covering the 6 months ended September 30, 2000, we found

- the statements of expenditures presented in appendixes I through VII, for the offices of independent counsel David M. Barrett, Carol Elder Bruce, Ralph I. Lancaster, Daniel S. Pearson, Robert W. Ray, and Donald C. Smaltz, and special counsel John C. Danforth, respectively, were presented fairly in all material respects, in conformity with the basis of accounting described in note 1 of each counsel's statement, which is principally the cash basis, a comprehensive basis of accounting other than U.S. generally accepted accounting principles;
- no material weaknesses in internal control over financial reporting (including safeguarding of assets) and compliance with laws and regulations and its operation; and
- no reportable noncompliance with the laws and regulations we tested.

The following sections provide background information, outline each conclusion in more detail, and discuss the scope of our audits.

Background

The Ethics in Government Act of 1978 amended title 28 of the United States Code to authorize the judicial appointment of independent counsels when the Attorney General determines that reasonable grounds exist to warrant further investigation of high-ranking government officials for certain alleged crimes. The independent counsel law (28 U.S.C. 591-599 (1994)) was intended to preserve and promote the accountability and integrity of public officials and of the institutions of the federal government. The independent counsel law expired on June 30, 1999. Provisions of the law allow the independent counsels serving at the expiration date to continue investigating pending matters until they determine that the investigations of such matters have been completed. Also, the Department of Justice determined that the appropriation established by Public Law 100-202 to fund expenditures by independent counsels appointed pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 591-599, or other law, is available to fund the expenditures of John C. Danforth, who was appointed as a Special Counsel within the Department of Justice by the Attorney General.

¹The term expenditures as used in this report generally means cash disbursed.

The independent counsel law directs the Department of Justice to pay all costs relating to the establishment and operation of independent counsel offices from the permanent, indefinite appropriation established to fund independent counsel activities. The independent counsel law also designates specific responsibilities to the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts (AOUSC) for independent counsels' administrative support. The Department of Justice periodically disburses lump-sum payments to AOUSC for this purpose.

During any 6-month period, there may be other significant costs incurred in support of the work of the counsels, which are paid from appropriations other than the permanent, indefinite appropriation established to fund independent counsel activities. These costs arise when a counsel uses detailees from other federal agencies, such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI). Independent counsels are not required to reflect such costs in their statements of expenditures and neither the independent counsels nor special counsel do so. However, to the extent practicable the counsels identified and disclosed these costs in the notes to their statements presented in the appendixes to this report.

These statements and related notes do not include certain expenditures related to the investigation by independent counsel Arlin M. Adams/Larry D. Thompson's office, which officially terminated effective June 3, 1999 and, accordingly, no longer prepares financial statements. However, transactions for Office of Independent Counsel (OIC)-Adams/Thompson during this period included a $28,000 refund from a contractor who had provided archiving of investigative records whose services were no longer required and $20,400 in expenditures, resulting in a net $7,600 decrease in OIC-Adams/Thompson's total expenditures. Independent Counsel Larry D. Thompson terminated his appointment on July 30, 2000.

Opinion on Statements of Expenditures

The statements of expenditures including the accompanying notes for the offices of independent counsel David M. Barrett, Carol Elder Bruce, Ralph I. Lancaster, Daniel S. Pearson, Robert W. Ray, and Donald C. Smaltz, and for the office of special counsel John C. Danforth present fairly, in all material respects, the expenditures of these counsels for the 6 months ended September 30, 2000, on the basis of accounting described in note 1 to each office's statement.

The counsels prepared their statements of expenditures principally on a cash basis of accounting, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. The bases of accounting are described in note 1 of each counsel's statement.

Consideration of Internal Control

We do not express an opinion on internal control over financial reporting and compliance because the purpose of our consideration of internal control was to determine our procedures for auditing the statements of expenditures, not to express an opinion on internal control. However, for the controls we tested, we found no material weaknesses in internal control over financial reporting (including safeguarding assets) and over compliance with laws and regulations for the 6-month period ended September 30, 2000. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors, fraud, or noncompliance in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected promptly by employees in the normal course of performing their duties. Our internal control work would not necessarily identify all material weaknesses.

Compliance With Laws and Regulations

Our tests for compliance with selected provisions of laws and regulations disclosed no instances of noncompliance that would be reportable under U.S. generally accepted government auditing standards. However, the objective of our audit was not to provide an opinion on overall compliance with laws and regulations. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Objectives, Scope, and Methodology

The independent counsels are responsible for preparing statements of expenditures in conformity with the bases of accounting described in the accompanying notes. Though not required to do so, the special counsel also elected to prepare a statement of expenditures. The counsels are also responsible for establishing, maintaining, and assessing internal control to provide reasonable assurance that the following internal control objectives are met and for complying with applicable laws and regulations.

- Financial reporting: Transactions are properly recorded, processed, and summarized to permit the preparation of the statements of expenditures in conformity with the basis of accounting described in the notes to their statements, and assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition.
- Compliance with laws and regulations: Transactions are executed in accordance with laws governing the use of budget authority and with other laws and regulations that could have a direct and material effect on the counsels' statements of expenditures.

We are responsible for (1) obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the counsels' statements of expenditures are presented fairly, in all material respects, in conformity with the basis of accounting described in the notes accompanying their statements of expenditures, (2) obtaining a sufficient understanding of internal control over financial reporting and over compliance with laws and regulations to plan the audits, and (3) testing compliance with selected provisions of laws and regulations that have a direct and material effect on the statements.

In order to fulfill these responsibilities, for each counsel, we (1) examined, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the statement of expenditures, except for items indicated as unaudited, (2) assessed the accounting principles used by management, (3) evaluated the overall presentation of the statement of expenditures, (4) obtained an understanding of internal control related to financial reporting (including safeguarding assets) and compliance with laws and regulations (including execution of transactions in accordance with budget authority), and (5) tested compliance with selected provisions of 28 U.S.C. 591-599 (1994), 5 U.S.C. Chapter 55, and regulations relating to pay administration.

We limited our internal control testing to controls over financial reporting and over compliance with laws and regulations. Because of inherent limitations in internal control, misstatements due to error, fraud, losses, or noncompliance may nevertheless occur and not be detected. We also caution that projecting our evaluation to future periods is subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the degree of compliance with controls may deteriorate. In addition, we caution that our internal control testing may not be sufficient for other purposes.

We did not test compliance with all laws and regulations applicable to the offices of independent and special counsel. We limited our tests of compliance to those laws and regulations that we deemed applicable to the statements of expenditures. We caution that noncompliance may occur and not be detected by these tests and that such testing may not be sufficient for other purposes.

We obtained, but did not audit, information on costs that were not paid from the permanent, indefinite appropriation as well as information on receipts. We obtained information on these costs and receipts from the independent and special counsel offices; the Department of Justice, including the FBI; the Department of the Treasury; and the U.S. Postal Service.

We performed our audits from October 25, 2000 through March 9, 2001, in accordance with U.S. generally accepted government auditing standards.

Agency Comments and Our Evaluation

We provided drafts of this report to the six offices of independent counsel, the office of the special counsel, the Department of Justice, and AOUSC for review and comment. The agency officials agreed with the facts and conclusions in our report.

Notes to Statement of Expenditures

Note 1 - Accounting policies

Reporting entity: The accompanying statement of expenditures presents the expenditures of the Office of Independent Counsel-David M. Barrett (OIC-Barrett) for the 6 months ended September 30, 2000. The statement of expenditures includes only expenditures made from the permanent, indefinite appropriation for the office of independent counsel that are processed through the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts (AOUSC) and the OIC. Mr. Barrett was appointed on May 24, 1995, to investigate certain allegations against the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

Basis of accounting: The accompanying statement of expenditures was prepared principally on the cash basis of accounting, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Under this method, except for personnel compensation and benefits, expenditures are recorded when the funds are disbursed by AOUSC or, for noncash transfers, when charged by AOUSC. Most personnel compensation and benefits are recorded at the end of the pay period when earned.

Note 2 - Travel

Travel generally includes expenditures for investigation-related travel paid for OIC-Barrett personnel and witnesses.

Note 3 - Rent, communications, and utilities

Approximately $174,000 in office rent is included in rent, communications, and utilities.

Note 4 - Contractual services

Contractual services primarily consist of expenditures for investigators and court reporters.

Note 5 - Administrative services

AOUSC receives an administrative fee equal to 3 percent of OIC expenditures for performing disbursement and accounting functions for OIC-Barrett. Payment of these fees generally occurs in the month following the services. Also included in administrative services are other costs, amounting to $57,890, incurred by AOUSC in providing administrative guidance and support to independent counsel offices. These costs were certified by AOUSC, paid from the independent counsel appropriation, and allocated to the OIC.

Appendix I

Notes to Statement of Expenditures

Note 1 - Accounting policies

Reporting entity: The accompanying statement of expenditures presents the expenditures of the Office of Independent Counsel-Carol Elder Bruce (OIC-Bruce) for the 6 months ended September 30, 2000. The statement of expenditures includes only expenditures made from the permanent, indefinite appropriation for the office of independent counsel that are processed through the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts (AOUSC) and the OIC. Ms. Bruce was appointed on March 19, 1998, to investigate whether the Secretary of the Interior may have violated federal criminal law in sworn testimony before a congressional committee. Ms. Bruce submitted her final report to the Special Division of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit on December 30, 1999.

Basis of accounting: The accompanying statement of expenditures was prepared principally on the cash basis of accounting, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Under this method, except for personnel compensation and benefits, expenditures are recorded when the funds are disbursed by AOUSC or, for noncash transfers, when charged by AOUSC. Most personnel compensation and benefits are recorded at the end of the pay period when earned.

Note 2 - Travel

Travel generally includes expenditures for investigation-related travel paid for OIC-Bruce personnel.

Note 3 - Rent, communications, and utilities

Approximately $14,000 in office rent was refunded by the General Services Administration and is included in rent, communications, and utilities.

Note 4 - Contractual services

Contractual services primarily consist of payments for specialists to assist in writing the final report.

Appendix II

Notes to Statement of Expenditures

Note 1 - Accounting policies

Reporting entity: The accompanying statement of expenditures presents the expenditures of the Office of Independent Counsel-Ralph I. Lancaster (OIC-Lancaster) for the 6 months ended September 30, 2000. The statement of expenditures includes only expenditures made from the permanent, indefinite appropriation for the office of independent counsel that are processed through the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts (AOUSC) and the OIC. Mr. Lancaster was appointed on May 26, 1998, to investigate activities of the Secretary of Labor regarding a possible undisclosed financial interest in a company and the solicitation of illegal campaign contributions.

Basis of accounting: The accompanying statement of expenditures was prepared principally on the cash basis of accounting, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Under this method, except for personnel compensation and benefits, expenditures are recorded when the funds are disbursed by AOUSC or, for noncash transfers, when charged by AOUSC. Most personnel compensation and benefits are recorded at the end of the pay period when earned.

Note 2 - Travel

Travel generally includes expenditures for investigation-related travel paid for OIC-Lancaster personnel.

Note 3 - Rent, communications, and utilities

Approximately $131,000 in office rent is included in rent, communications, and utilities.

Note 4 - Contractual services

Contractual services represent expenditures for services of experts and other specialists in areas of interest to the investigation.

Note 5 - Acquisition of capital assets

The capital assets expenditures are principally for the purchase of a telephone system. These assets will remain the property of the federal government at the conclusion of the investigation.

Note 6 - Administrative services

AOUSC receives an administrative fee equal to 3 percent of OIC expenditures for performing disbursement and accounting functions for OIC-Lancaster. Payment of these fees generally occurs in the month following the services. Also included in administrative services are other costs, amounting to $27,556, incurred by AOUSC in providing administrative guidance and support to independent counsel offices. Note 1 - Accounting policies

Reporting entity: The accompanying statement of expenditures presents the expenditures of the Office of Independent Counsel-Daniel S. Pearson (OIC-Pearson) for the 6 months ended September 30, 2000. The statement of expenditures includes only expenditures made from the permanent, indefinite appropriation for the office of independent counsel that are processed through the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts (AOUSC) and the OIC. Mr. Pearson was appointed on July 6, 1995, to investigate certain allegations against the Secretary of Commerce. On April 3, 1996, the Secretary was killed in a plane crash. Shortly thereafter, the independent counsel closed the investigation of the Secretary and transferred the investigation related to other parties to the Department of Justice. Expenditures during this period relate to efforts to archive the investigative records.

Basis of accounting: The accompanying statement of expenditures was prepared principally on the cash basis of accounting, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Under this method, except for personnel compensation and benefits, expenditures are recorded when the funds are disbursed by AOUSC or, for noncash transfers, when charged by AOUSC. Notes to Statement of Expenditures

Note 1 - Accounting policies

Reporting entity: The accompanying statement of expenditures presents the expenditures of the Office of Independent Counsel-Robert W. Ray (OIC-Ray) for the 6 months ended September 30, 2000. The statement of expenditures includes only expenditures made from the permanent, indefinite appropriation for the office of independent counsel that are processed through the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts (AOUSC) and the OIC.

Kenneth W. Starr (Starr) was appointed on August 5, 1994, to assume the investigation of possible violations of federal criminal law in Re: Madison Guaranty Savings and Loan Association and other entities, which was begun by regulatory Independent Counsel Robert B. Fiske, Jr. The U.S. Court of Appeals subsequently expanded OIC-Starr's jurisdiction to include selected White House Travel Office and access-to-personnel-file issues on March 22, 1996, and June 21, 1996, respectively. On October 25, 1996, it further expanded OIC-Starr's jurisdiction to include issues related to statements made before the Government Reform and Oversight Committee, U.S. House of Representatives, on June 26, 1996. On January 16, 1998, the Court expanded OIC-Starr's jurisdiction to include issues related to whether, in a civil case, certain individuals suborned perjury, obstructed justice, intimidated witnesses, or otherwise violated federal law in dealing with witnesses, potential witnesses, attorneys, or others.

On October 18, 1999, Mr. Starr resigned his appointment, and was succeeded by Robert W. Ray as independent counsel effective the same date. On March 16, 2000, Mr. Ray submitted to the Special Division of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit two final reports on (1) the access-to-personnel-files issues and (2) the issues related to statements made before the Government Reform and Oversight Committee. On July 28, 2000, the Court ordered the public release of the two reports. Further, on June 22, 2000, Mr. Ray submitted to the Court a final report on the White House travel matter. On October 18, 2000, the Court ordered the public release of that report. On January 19, 2001, Mr. Ray announced the conclusion of all current matters before the office of independent counsel.

Note 2 - Travel

Travel generally includes expenditures for investigation-related travel paid for OIC-Ray personnel, detailees from other federal agencies, such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), contractors, and witnesses.

Note 3 - Rent, communications, and utilities

Approximately $390,000 in office rent is included in rent, communications, and utilities.

Note 4 - Contractual services

Contractual services primarily consist of expenditures for computer support and maintenance and investigators and other specialists in areas of interest to the investigation.

Note 5 - Acquisition of capital assets

The capital assets expenditures are primarily for automated data processing equipment. These assets will remain the property of the federal government at the conclusion of the investigation.

Note 6 - Administrative services

AOUSC receives an administrative fee equal to 3 percent of OIC expenditures for performing disbursement and accounting functions for OIC-Ray. Payment of these fees generally occurs in the month following the services. Also included in administrative services are other costs, amounting to $122,664, incurred by AOUSC in providing administrative guidance and support to independent counsel offices. These costs were certified by AOUSC, paid from the independent counsel appropriation, and allocated to the OIC.

Note 7 - Other costs (unaudited)

Certain costs relating to employees assigned to work with the OIC by the FBI, the U.S. Marshals Service, and the Department of Justice were financed through funds appropriated to these agencies and, accordingly, are not included in the statement of expenditures. These agencies were not reimbursed for these costs. The schedule below shows the estimated costs (unaudited) of the assistance provided to the OIC during the 6-month period, based on information provided by officials of these agencies.

	Costs (unaudited)

Note 1 - Accounting policies

Reporting entity: The accompanying statement of expenditures presents the expenditures of the Office of Special Counsel-John C. Danforth (OSC-Danforth) for the 6 months ended September 30, 2000. The statement of expenditures includes only expenditures made from the permanent, indefinite appropriation for OSC-Danforth that are processed through the Department of Justice. On September 9, 1999, the Attorney General appointed John C. Danforth as a Special Counsel to investigate the government conduct relative to events at the Branch Davidian complex near Waco, Texas, on April 19, 1993. Mr. Danforth submitted his final report to the Deputy Attorney General concerning the 1993 confrontation at the Branch Davidian complex on November 8, 2000.

Basis of accounting: The accompanying statement of expenditures was prepared principally on the cash basis of accounting, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Under this method, except for personnel compensation and benefits, expenditures are recorded when the funds are disbursed by the Department of Justice. Personnel compensation and benefits are recorded at the end of the pay period when earned.

Note 2 - Travel

Travel generally includes expenditures for investigation-related travel for OSC-Danforth personnel and detailees from other components of the Department of Justice.

Note 3 - Rent, communications, and utilities

Approximately $287,700 in office rent is included in rent, communications, and utilities. This category also includes rental charges for office furniture.

Counsel Danforth

Note 4 - Contractual services

Contractual services consist primarily of expenditures for litigation support, investigation services, contract guard services, and other specialists in areas of interest to the investigation.

Note 5 - Acquisition of capital assets

The capital assets expenditures are primarily for automated data processing equipment. These assets will remain the property of the federal government at the conclusion of the investigation.

Note 6 - Administrative services

Administrative services represent Department of Justice expenditures for performing administrative and payroll functions for OSC-Danforth.

Note 7 - Other costs (unaudited)

Certain costs relating to employees assigned to work with OSC-Danforth by the U.S. Postal Service and the Department of Justice were financed through funds appropriated to these agencies and, accordingly, are not included in the statement of expenditures. These agencies were not reimbursed for these costs. The schedule below shows the estimated costs (unaudited) of the assistance provided to the OSC-Danforth during the 6-month period, based on information provided by officials of these agencies

	Costs (unaudited)
Postal Service	$1,869,526
Justice	35,607
	$1,905,133
